PREFACE.

We beg to call the attention of amateurs to the splendid series of English Coins herein catalogued, being confident that there are but few collections that could not be improved by a selection from the fine pieces herein catalogued. To collectors of War Medals the present lot will prove very attractive, as the collection is a good one, containing many rare and desirable pieces which were actually given by the different governments to their distinguished soldiers and worn by them till death. The series of Historic Medals and U. S. Coins are both attractive and valuable.

Coin auctions are too well established to need any recommendation from us. There are but few collectors who have not reaped the advantage of this method of purchase, where, independently of buying in competition with dealers at first price, often at less than cost, they have the public guarantee of a responsible house as to the genuineness of the coins purchased. The name of SCOTT on the title page is sufficient guarantee of the accuracy of the description, and that the sale will be conducted with perfect good faith to all concerned, whether they are present in the room or make their purchases through agents.

Collectors living at too great a distance from New York to attend in person may have their orders executed by the auctioneers, Messrs. SCOTT & Co., or other dealers, for a commission of 10 per cent. on amounts under $100; over $100, 5 per cent. A uniform charge of fifty cents made on any amount under $5.

In reference to the method of selling at auction, we would say that each lot is sold to the highest bidder, at so much for each coin in the lot; so, if you desire a lot of coins which contains 10 pieces, and you wish to pay $1.00 for it, you should bid 10 cents each. Always state your highest price, relying on the honor of those you employ to make the purchase for you at the lowest possible figure.

The coins will be on exhibition at the Auction Rooms, on the day of sale, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Collectors are respectfully requested to forward their bids at the earliest possible day after receipt of catalogue, as where many large orders are received the day of sale, it is impossible to give them the same attention as those received at an earlier date, and it not unfrequently happens that several large orders arrive the day after the sale, owing to some delay in the mails.

SCOTT & COMPANY.

New York, February 16, 1885.

After the sale this catalogue can be had with each lot neatly marked in ink with the price realized for it, price 50 cents, post free. Former catalogues can also be had at same prices.

SCOTT & COMPANY, 721 Broadway, New York City.

OF THE PRIMITIVE INHABITANTS OF THIS VAST CONTINENT comparatively little is known, and the few relics of the various tribes are rapidly passing away. The grand mounds of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys are being opened, one by one, and robbed of their treasures, so that in a few years the interesting remains now offered so cheaply will be quite unattainable.

About the only remains of the pre-historic inhabitants which remain to us consist of stone implements, such as axes, mortars, corn grinders, skinners, knives, ornaments, spear heads, arrow points, &c., all chipped out of solid rock, and many exhibiting remarkable skill in the treatment of the stone for the various uses to which it has been put. It is supposed that many of these articles were made several thousand years ago. Some of these implements are now rare, and when of extra workmanship command high prices, but we still have a stock of arrow points from various States which we offer for sale, post free, at 15 cents each for ordinary varieties such as are printed above. The locality where found accompanies each piece sold by us. Prices of other stone articles furnished on application.

A Fine arrow point, with locality where found, sent post free on receipt of 15 cents. 12 selected varieties post free for $1.50.
